

Ruy Lozano - Fire Chief

Fire Chief Ruy Lozano is a Native of Texas born and raised in Houston. Served in the Army Reserve as a Chemical Operation Specialist and entering the American Fire Service on 1997 as part of the Houston Fire Department. Operated as a Firefighter paramedic where he met his wife Karan who was an E.R. nurse. Promoted up that ranks and operated as the Media Spokesperson and ultimately as Assistant Fire Chief until he retired in 2002 to accept the position of Fire Chief of the New Braunfels Fire Department.

Since joining the organization, he has added 25 firefighters to the ranks, established a mobile integrated health program, secured a 3.4-million-dollar staffing grant and reduced overtime to less than 5% of total cost of labor. He loves the hill country and hopes to convince his stepdaughters to move so that he can enjoy his 5 grandchildren on a regular basis.
