These documents and other financial information produced by the Finance Department can be found on the City website.

FY 2025 January Financial Report Highlights

- Sales tax collections are demonstrating a volatile pattern which highlights uncertain economic conditions and apprehensive consumer spending.
- Sales tax collections are still projected to hit budgeted numbers at this time.
- One-time payments and encumbrances at the beginning of the fiscal year may result in expenditures looking higher than the percent of year threshold at the end of January. This is a common practice every fiscal year. As the year progresses a department's spending should level out compared to the threshold.
